四、阅读理解 (共 15 小题，每小题 2 分，满分 30 分)

阅读下面三篇材料，从每题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中，选出最佳选项。

A

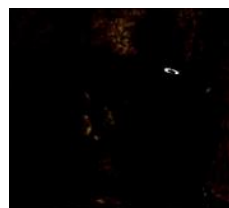

Tearless Onions Go on Sale

UK supermarket Waitrose has started selling a new type of “tearless” onions called Sunions. Many people find that chopping onions makes them cry. This is because onions give off chemicals that make your eyes water. Plant breeder Rick Waston crossed several types of onions to create a version that was the least pungent (刺激性的). There’s just one catch----they are three times more expensive than Waitrose’s cheapest own-brand onions.

“See” with a Bionic (仿生) Eye

An 88-year-old woman who was blind in her left eye can now see with it again----thanks to a microchip placed under her retina. The retina is a light-sensitive (感光的) area at the back of the eye. The chip picks up video signals from a camera fitted on a special pair of glasses. The signals are then sent to the brain, which understands them as if they were produced by natural vision. The patient, who has received the implant (移植), said, “I’m excited at the possibility of enjoying my hobbies again.”

The time may be coming to wash our hands with plastic trash. A Virginia Tech team has found a way to turn old plastic into surfactants (表面活性剂) which are the main ingredients for soap. Surfactants can stick together materials that usually would not mix-such as oil and water. “To me, plastic waste basically is aboveground crude oil (原油),” says Guoliang Liu, a chemist at Virginia Tech. The team hopes to partner with industry to make plastic waste a bit cleaner.

56. In which section of the newspaper can we read the news?

- A. Health. B. Environment. C. Science D. Nature.

57. The underlined word “catch” probably means _____.

- A. difficulty B. taste C. advantage D. choice

58. We can learn from the second news that the old woman _____.

- A. can see again with a microchip on her retina B. is supposed to wear special glasses to see
C. understands the signals sent to the brain D. is certain to be able to return to her hobbies

59. The best heading for the third piece of news is _____.

- A. Surfactants Can be Cleaner B. Time to Partner with Industry
C. Plastic-Aboveground Crude Oil D. Plastic Waste Turned into Soap

60. All the news above _____.

- A. introduces new inventions B. reports progress in life style
C. calls on environmental protection D. offers useful life advice

Energetic music fills the air as students move their arms and dance along to do aerobic exercises (有氧体操). This semester, students at the Aerospace City School of RDFZ in Beijing have more fun activities.

“Students have different physical conditions after recovering from the Disease,” Wang Lifang, a PE teacher at the school, told a local TV station. “So we start from easier activities such as dancing, fun games and sit-ups to gradually improve students’ physical health.”

The PE teachers designed a series of aerobic exercises, which can train students’ core (核心), upper body and leg strength. To make sure everyone is safe, the school also uses wearable devices to keep track of students’ heart rates during exercises.

“The music is happy and relaxing, and we all enjoy this kind of fun PE class,” said eighth-grader Tu Yahan. At Taipingchuan No. 1 Middle School in Jilin, students began to do Tai Chi instead of running during the morning break. “I like doing Tai Chi because it won’t make you out of breath. I think it’s good for students who are still coughing these days,” said Liu Jiawei from the school.

But this doesn’t mean that students will not do other regular sports anymore. According to Wang, the PE teachers will keep changing training plans based on students’ conditions and gradually go back to normal teaching content. “During this special period of time, it’s even more important to let students realize the value of sports and develop healthy exercise habits,” said Wang.

61. Aerobic exercises are added in PE classes because they.

- A. help improve students’ health bit by bit
- B. are fun activities
- C. train students’ courage
- D. are in style recently

62. What does Liu Jiawei think of the new PE classes?

- A. Pleasing and relaxing
- B. Quite useful.
- C. Even worse.
- D. Much safer.

63. It’s clear that _____.

- A. aerobic exercises started in many schools
- B. wearable devices are used during exercises
- C. doing Tai Chi makes students breathless
- D. all students recover fast through new PE classes

64. We can infer from the last paragraph that _____.

- A. it will still take a long time to recover from the Disease
- B. PE classes will gradually go back to normal
- C. students will have more choices in PE classes
- D. regular sports will be completely replaced in PE classes

65. What would be the best title for the passage?

- A. Keeping Fit and Safe
- B. Recovering from the Disease
- C. Health Comes First
- D. the Value of Sports

C

One of my favorite inventions in recent years is face unlocking. Without needing to lift my fingers and type in the numbers, I can get straight into my phone with just a look. Now there is a new technology designed to replace the password called the “passkey”!

Passkeys turn your phone into something a bit like a wallet, which you can use to store membership cards to all of your apps and services. When you need to log in to a website, you’ll just have to tap a button on your phone and your passkey wallet will let you in without any worry.

And how does it keep this wallet safe? By using the same biometric (生物统计) “check your phone uses---a face scan or a fingerprint that cannot easily be forged.”

Passkeys won’t just save us from having to remember passwords but, perhaps logging in with a passkey will actually be much safer than typing a password. This is because it uses a technology called “public key” cryptography (密码) which is one of the building blocks of the Internet-and is how computers have securely communicated with other computers for so many years. To put it simply, it works a bit like a key, instead of a password.

With a password, the website has to keep a database (数据库) of everyone’s passwords to check against when you log in. But with a passkey, when you create your account on a website, it will effectively create a new lock and key. The website will keep the lock, ★.

I think it's a really clever idea, and that passkeys are going to make our digital lives even safer. So, next time you're complaining that you can't remember your password, don't worry too much. It won't always be like this!

66. The writer explains how the passkeys work by _____.
A. giving examples
B. listing numbers
C. raising questions
D. comparing similar things
67. The underlined word “forged” in paragraph 3 means _____.
A. copied
B. printed
C. canceled
D. recorded
68. The passkeys are much safer than passwords because of _____.
A. biometric check
B. cryptography technology
C. blocks of Internet
D. secure communication
69. Which of the following can be put in ★?
A. but your phone is safer
B. so you won't forget the key
C. or it will remember the key
D. and only your phone will have the key
70. The passage is written to
A. show passkeys are safer than passwords
B. introduce science development
C. report the invention of face unlocking
D. describe digital lives

Dear Jason,

How's it going recently?

Our school will have a lecture about basic knowledge of traditional Chinese medicine for the coming “Life Science Week”. Since you are really interested in Chinese medicine, I'm writing to invite you to attend this lecture. The lecture will be given by a famous expert of traditional Chinese medicine. And it will be held in the lecture hall from 2: 00 pm to 4: 00 pm on January 27th, 2024. Today, western medicine may be people's first choice. But I think Chinese medicine has its own special value, and it will never be out of date. I'm sure we will learn a lot from this lecture.

Anyway it's really worth attending. I'm looking forward to meeting you soon.
